VOLUME XLII.

Fire in the Opera House Block.

It has been some time since Norway has been visited by fire, but the town was awakened to the fact Saturday morning by a call from the fire alarm.

Fire broke out in the basement of Y. W. Hills jewelry store in the Opera House Block and volumes of smoke were issuing from the building when the company arrived. Streams were immediately turned into the basement from the rear of the building and streams were quickly put from the front of the building and the flames subdued.

It was not long after being discovered that the flames found their way into the partition and into Hill's jewelry store. H. B. Foster's Clothing Store, Mrs. H. L. Powers Millinery Store.

R. O. Porter, clerk at H. B. Foster's, opened the store at the usual hour, about 6:30, and did his morning work as usual. He had also been into the basement and nothing doing. When after getting his inside work finished he went out and shoveled the sidewalk.

About seven o'clock Lee Smith, who also clerks at Foster's, came and went into the store. On entering he found the room filling with smoke, and going to the basement discovered the flames, and Porter immediately sounded the alarm.

The fire lasted for an hour and was fought hard by the firemen, who did everything possible to keep it within a small space and get it under control which was soon done.

It is thought that the fire caught from electric wires which passed near the stairs in the basement of Hill's store. Soon after the fire broke out and the seven streams were playing it was thought prudent to ask aid of the pressure on the South Paris water system, and Superintendent Bowker opened the gate at the Fair Grounds between the plaid gutty to vantage and were sentenced to 10 days in jail. They were committed.

The fire in Foster's came up near the stair way and was kept from spreading. In Hill's and Powers it was necessary to break the windows and wet the entire place to keep the fire from going into the Hall and into E. N. Swett's Shoe store.

The stock in the clothing store, the jewelry store and the millinery store, is nearly a total loss, a large part of the damage being done by water.

Mrs. R. L. Powers estimates her loss between $1,200 and $1,500, and has an insurance $500.

V. W. Hills, while unable to state accurately his loss at this time, estimates it to be about $3000, and has an insurance of $500.

The stock in Foster's was valued at $7,000 and is fully covered by insurance. The National Bank and E. N. Swett's Shoe Store were not damaged and were at business after the smoke had passed away.

The Norway Opera House Building is the largest and most expensive building in town and cost about $2000. The first floor is occupied by the Norway National Bank, H. B. Foster's clothing store, V. W. Hills' jewelry store, Mrs. R. L. Powers millinery store, E. N. Swett's shoe store, the armory of Co. D, Second Regiment N. G. S. M., the selectman's office and the second floor the Opera House.

The adjusters of the insurance for the Opera House building met Tuesday and went over the building carefully and it was decided that $1771 be the amount of insurance allowed. The adjusters who had the matter in charge were Frank Bodwell of Augusta, S. L. McClellan of Bangor and Mr. Cowee of Boston.

Co. D, Second Regiment, have their armory in the Opera House and they have about 40,000 rounds of rifle cartridges. But while this sounds dangerous it is not especially so, for rifle cartridges are mostly lead and a metal covering that looks like copper. Those who are placed in fire would not explode.

A shot gun cartridge is well filled with powder and is a different proposition. It should also be mentioned that the men who are engaged by the Maine Telephone and Telegraph Co. in putting the telephone poles and strung the cable were on the scene and assisted the firemen in many ways during the fire which was appreciated by the Fire Company.

Fire Alarm Rang.

At a little past six o'clock Tuesday morning the fire alarm struck. The wind was blowing a gale and the thermometer well down below zero. It was about as well a time for a fire as could be well selected, and coming so soon after the Opera House fire, when that was fresh in the minds of the people, a chill of fear ran through the village.

But the bell continued to strike once at intervals and though it was a dismal affair, the matter became apparent that "crossed wires" was the cause for the general alarm that rang for three hours. The crossed wires were located on Lynn street.

The meeting of the Daughters of the American Revolution will be held next Wednesday evening with Mrs. Evis Cook at her home on Beal's street.

Mrs. Annie's funeral will be held at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Nora Bradbury, on Tucker street, Thursday, Feb. 10, at 10:30 a. m., attended by Rev. Merrill C. Ward.

Rev. B. C. Wentworth of the Methodist church preached at the Baptist church, Sunday afternoon. Rev. G. B. Halsey of Westbrook, who was to have preached was not able to be present.

The death of Mrs. Clarinda Annis, aged 61, of Norway, occurred by three o'clock, Monday. She is survived by three children, Sanford Annis and Mrs. Nora Bradbury of Norway, and Mrs. Carrie Kenerson.

Plans for New Sewerage System.

The civil engineer, S. Littlefield, Brunswick, has sent the plans for the proposed sewerage system for the Norway Village Corporation and they are at the selectmen's office.

At the last Corporation meeting $750 was appropriated for the survey and to secure estimates on putting in a sewerage system. It is estimated that the sewer would cost $31,361 91. The size of pipe to be used is in proportion to the amount of sewerage which is to pass through it. It would either be a 6 inch, 8 inch, 10 inch or 12-inch pipe.

The head of the sewer as shown in these plans, is practically at the head of Main street and runs the entire length of same.

The sewerage from the lower part of Pleasant street, from Crescent street, passes down Pleasant street and joins the main on Main street. On Water street it would be laid about 100 feet from Pleasant street and passes down Water street to Bridge street and out into the main on Main street.

The upper part of Pleasant street drains down Pleasant and down Maple street and joins the line from upper Crescent and Whitman streets by the sewerage from Pearl street, where it is joined by the sewerage from Summer and the lower part of Deering streets and passes down Pearl street, down Beal's street as far as Danforth street after being joined by the sewerage from Cottage street.

A short line from the bridge on Beal's street would be laid down to Danforth street and passes out Danforth street to main line.

On Lynn street, it begins on each side of the bridge the main street side going direct into the main; that of the lower side of the bridge passing down Beal's street is joined by the sewerage from Beal's street from the bridge, also Pine, Fern and Hezen streets.

Lower Beal streets joined at the junction of Winter and Tucker streets passes down Winter street and across the meadow to where it is joined by the sewerage from Paris, upper and lower Fair and Main streets. At this point the main would be laid out across the meadow somewhere in the vicinity of George W. Holmes' residence and pass to Steep Falls. At this point it is joined by the sewerage from lower Fair and Brown streets, and then the main runs past the Electric Light station and empties into the Penneesseewassee river.

The streets on the south side of Main street would pass directly into the main. The plans also show the lay of the land and the amount of digging that would be required at the different points in constructing the sewer.

The man holes would be placed at intervals along the sewer line and be the head of Main street is a flush tank.

Will Exploit Wealth and Resources of Maine.

Professor George R. Howe is completing his famous educational work. He is at present in New York or Washington completing the final development of his labors. For years he has searched the atmosphere, climate and the state of the mind for information of the wealth in gems and precious stones.

Howe has devoted 18 years' study and research to this work. He is engaged in preparing a work which is a deal in fact in three large educational volumes for the benefit of future investigators.

His first aim is to establish an international congress of education which will be largely along these lines. It will be a study of self and the state at large, the independent system of education independent of school and church systems of today and devoted to the youth of the world.

The first volume of his work will be entitled "Our National Environment." It will be a study of the possibilities of Maine and her gems. Then will come a volume on social relations and environments, while the last one will be devoted to a new educational system. This will show the importance and the value of the auxiliary office and geological structure in the development of the race.—Boston Post.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hathaway and Clara Hilde Hathaway had a safe trip to Long Key, Fla., and Friday, Jan. 27th, while waiting for the boat to Havana they remembered some of their Norway friends by sending a post card of the wharves at Key West and the boats at work on one-story structures shaded by palm trees.

The services Sunday evening at the Congregational church were largely attended. A chorus of about 30 young people lead the singing. The choir was well selected, and after coming so soon after the Opera House fire, when that was fresh in the minds of the people, a chill of fear ran through the village.

But the bell continued to strike once at intervals and though it was a dismal affair, the matter became apparent that "crossed wires" was the cause for the general alarm that rang for three hours. The crossed wires were located on Lynn street.

Rev. B. C. Wentworth of the Methodist church preached at the Baptist church, Sunday afternoon. Rev. G. B. Halsey of Westbrook, who was to have preached was not able to be present.

The death of Mrs. Clarinda Annis, aged 61, of Norway, occurred by three o'clock, Monday. She is survived by three children, Sanford Annis and Mrs. Nora Bradbury of Norway, and Mrs. Carrie Kenerson.

George Merrill.

Another of Norway's aged and respected citizens went to his rest Friday, Jan. 27, when George Merrill died. Mr. Merrill's health had been failing several years but it was only a few days before his death that he was seriously ill. He was tenderly and faithfully cared for at his pleasant home place on Pike Hill road, overlooking the village, by his second wife's granddaughter, Mrs. A. Mand (Frost) DeCoster and husband, F. E. DeCoster, after the death of his second wife.

Mr. Merrill was born in Waterford, Nov. 24, 1833, the son of William and Meicy (Watson) Merrill, and was next to the oldest in a family of eleven brothers and sisters. He was educated in the common schools of Waterford and adjoining towns, and chose the business of millwright and builder, in which he was successful and a good workman.

He went to Guilford, Vt., when a young man and while there he married Sarah Julia, daughter of Col. J. E. Cummings. Their children were born to them in Guilford. George Merrill, who died in infancy; Ada Cummings Merrill, who married Chas. E. Freeman of Norway, and died a few years ago, and Clarence Watson Merrill, who with his family live in Norway village on Water street.

His second wife was Adaline Amelia Savage. She was born in North Anson. Mrs. Merrill died a few years ago.

At one time Mr. Merrill was in the fruit business with his brother-in-law in California. He also lived at Bolster's Mills and built the mills there and many of the houses. He had work as millwright in Lewiston and Auburn for years.

In politics Mr. Merrill was a Democrat. He was a Mason and before advancing old age confined him to the house, took an active part in the affairs of the town.

The funeral was Sunday, Jan. 29th, from the home of Mrs. Merrill, who was in the family lot in Bisbee town cemetery in Waterford.

Mon's Circle Supper.

On Wednesday evening occurred one of the biggest events of the season in the Congregational church when the men served their circle supper. The supper was exceptionally well patronized, the tables being set three times and about 400 partook of the bountiful offer. The bill of fare consisted of cold meats, mashed potatoes, baked beans and brown bread, lobster salad, pickles, cakes, rolls and coffee, and in fact there were edibles which would satisfy the taste of everyone.

After the supper an excellent entertainment was given in the auditorium. The entertainment consisted of readings by Mrs. Thomas Marble of Gorham, N. H., and solos by Mrs. Winifred Staples Smith of Carthage.

Mrs. Marble, who is no stranger in this vicinity, received a hearty welcome. Her readings were both of a serious and humorous nature and were read in her usual pleasing manner, and she received much applause which she responded to by encore.

Mrs. Smith is a fine soprano singer, one of the finest in the State, and this is the first time she has sung in this vicinity. Her selections were beautifully rendered and she at once received the applause of the audience, who thoroughly enjoyed her selections.

The auditorium was filled and over 500 were present to the entertainment. The gross proceeds of the supper and entertainment were $116 and it is estimated that the net proceeds will be about $70.

Mrs. Fred Knightly has been very sick the past two weeks with grip and pneumonia. Mrs. John Frank worked there one week.

The W. C. T. U. will meet Wednesday, Feb. 8, at 2:30 p. m. with Mrs. George Swift, Paris street. Subject will be "Temperance Training in the Home." All mothers will be cordially welcome.

Thomas Smiley's store is being white washed this week. The window casings and doors have been painted a dark green which gives the window displays a fine contrast with the dark framework.

There is a large framed composite picture of the class pictures of the members of the class of 1910, the high school building and teachers, with a dash of the class color in Smiley's show window, placed there by the artist, W. L. Merrill. It is to be hung in the high school room.

Dr. and Mrs. L. Hall Trufant and Miss Towle spent Saturday in Lewiston. After they had taken the train to Norway at about 6 o'clock the telephone rang and the doctor received a call to go to the Town Farm. Accompanied by Mrs. Trufant he left the village and after some difficulty reached the farm. The wind and snow blew and it was so much so that the doctor was unable to return home until Sunday.

HIDDEN DANGERS

Nature Gives Timely Warnings That No
Norway Citizen Can Afford to Ignore.

DANGER SIGNAL No. 1 comes from the kidney secretions. They will warn you when the kidneys are sick. Well kidneys excrete a clear, amber fluid. Sick kidneys send out a thin, pale and foamy, or thick, red, ill-smelling urine, full of sediment and irregular of passage.

DANGER SIGNAL No. 2 comes from the back. Back pains, dull and heavy or sharp and acute, tell you of sick kidneys and warn you of the coming of dropsy, diabetes and Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys and cure them permanently. "Ho's Norway proof."

Mrs. P. Walker, Cottage St., Norway, Me., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills and must acknowledge that I have been greatly benefited. While my case was no way serious, I was in misery all the time. Symptoms pointed to a severe kidney disorder. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, I decided to try them and procured a box from Stone's Drug Store. In a short time after commencing their use I felt much better and as I continued taking them, I steadily improved. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills as an excellent remedy for kidney disease."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cts.

LIFE SAVED AT DEATH'S DOOR.

"I never felt so near my grave," writes
W. R. Patterson, of Wellington, Tex., "as when a frightful cough and lung trouble pulled me down to 100 pounds, in spite of doctor's treatment for two years. My father, mother and three sisters died of consumption, and that I am alive today is due solely to Dr.
King's New Discovery, which completely cured me."

Now I weigh 187 pounds and have been well and strong for years. Quiet, safe, sure, it is the best remedy on earth
for coughs, colds, lagrippe, asthma, croup, and all throat and lung troubles.

It is said that a garment is never fashionable to a woman when it becomes too fashionable. From this argument is predicted the downfall of the narrow skirt.

Breaks Up Cold.

Thousands are Using the New Method with Wonderful Results.

Out out this prescription Madam: you are the one that must look after the health of the household, and you are the one in these days of high prices that must manage things economically.
Someone in the family may have a hard cold, perhaps in the chest.
It matters not whether there is some advice and a prescription that will break up any cold in a few hours, and without taking harmful drugs or strong drinks into the stomach.

First of all, look after the bowels.
The tongue will show whether the liver is tight or not. If the bowels need attention, a good dose of castor oil made tasteful with a little orange juice will do the trick, although any reliable cathartic will do.

Then try this economical treatment:
into a bowl of boiling water pour a teaspoonful of HYOMEI (pronounce) High-o-mey) cover both head and bowl with a towel, and breathe deep into the lungs the soothing, healing vapor.

Breathe this vapor for five or ten minutes until the head feels fine and clear; then go to bed and sleep soundly until morning.

A bottle of HYOMEI costs 50 cents at Noyes Drug Store and drugist everywhere. A complete outfit which includes a hard rubber pocket inhaler with which you can breathe it any time or place, costs only $1.00. It is guaranteed to cure catarrh, coughs, colds sore throat and croup, or money back. 4-6

KIDNEY TROUBLE

Suffered Ten Years—Relieved in Three Months Thanks to PER-UNA.

C. B. FIZER.

O. B. FIZER, Mt. Sterling, Ky., says:

"I have suffered with kidney and bladder trouble for ten years past."

"Last March I commenced using Peruna and continued for three months.
I have not used it since, nor have I felt a pain."

Maine for Maine.

Education Not All
"Education is not all. We must stir up interest and enthusiasm. We must stimulate the desire for the simpler life to counteract the allurements of the great cities, cultivate the love for the open fields and whispering forests.
Teach the lesson that the largest and fullest life is not measured by city standards. Scattered over this broad land are many Maine sons and daughters and to their waiting ears let us send forth the rallying cry, 'Back to Maine.' A many of these absent sons and daughters will come back with a love for Maine stronger than ever before."

Proper Development.
"Our magnificent state is waiting to be revived into new life. In this movement one of the fundamental principles is Maine resources for Maine. Much of our future must depend upon the proper development of manufacturing centered around our great water powers, much must depend upon the proper conservation of the resources we are now using. Our Forest should be preserved instead of destroyed as at present, or wastefully manufactured. Our tilable lands should be cultivated."

Home Opportunities.
"Blind to the opportunities that lay at their own door our young men are going forth from home and thus the ranks of Maine's energetic young people have been depleted and as a result our agriculture and manufacturing has developed but slowly."

Nature's Ideal Spot.
"Only a few states excel us in water power development and yet there is enough undeveloped water power in Maine to turn every power wheel in New England. Our miles of seacoast, the ideal resting place for tired city dwellers should be occupied by thousands more of summer homes. Buried in the ground is wealth in the form of granite, slate, limestone and materials for cement making."

EAST HIRAM.

time. She came here from Sebago where she was called by the illness of relatives.

One strong argument in favor of fruit growing in New England is that, although it takes a New England apple tree half as long again to mature as it does its Western brother, it will live and produce five times as long.

Mrs. Ella Clark visited Mrs. Ahira Smith recently. Mrs. Smith's sister, Mrs. A. E. K. Grover of South Bethel, was a guest there.

H. M. Kestell was at his sister's, Mrs. Ahira Smith's, recently. He is having trouble from an enlarged vein on his leg and contemplates going to a hospital for treatment.

Our snow roller here gives us good roads, broad level driveways, with no high shoulders on the side for the drifting snow to pile in over. Soon after every storm most of our roads in this vicinity are put in good passable condition with chance for good turnouts.

Last Sunday special services were held in the Universalist church morning and evening in honor of the Y. P. C. U. At the morning service two young ladies, the Bethel Union took part. Miss Frost read the Scripture lesson and Miss Park, daughter of Hon. E. C. Park, gave a history of the local union, which was very interesting. At the evening meeting, special features of the Y. P. C. U. work, State and National, were reported upon by different members, making this a very interesting service. The Cong. national convention at Portland in July was referred to and the members were urged to prepare to attend.

The storm and gale of last Saturday spoiled the fine sleighing in this vicinity. In places the snow was piled in high drifts, in some instances completely blocking the highway for many rods, compelling teams to take to fields to get by. The R. F. D. carriers had a hard time of it, sometimes in the road and sometimes out, sometimes the sleigh was right side up, and at others it was all the driver could do to keep it from being upside down. Those who think the R. F. D. men are having a soft time and simple pay, ought to have a few days' experience like that of Saturday. As one member of Congress said last week, in the debate on the bill for increasing the pay of the R. F. D. men, he would be in favor of voting them $300 per year for ten years, and that would be a little more than the R. F. D. men on some routes in his state, and some other states where they had a large amount of snow. No man looking for a soft snap, would stay long on any R. F. D. route.

MIDDLE INTERVALE.

School closed here Jan. 27th.

Daniel Mason Kimball is in California. The high winds here blew a part of Oliver barn off. We think there never has been more cold and wind than the last three days of January. No teams been out yet, Tuesday, 3 p. m.

We have before us, The Temple Review in which is presented a sermon by Rev. Russell H. Conwell, pastor of the largest Protestant church in America. "Angels visit the Industrious." We find in this sermon the words we have had for years. He who does his duty day by day to him the angels come only to those do they come who do their duty every day.

Woman's Danger Periods Made Safe

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

The Change of Life is the most critical period of a woman's existence, and neglect of health at this time invites disease.

Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to medicine that will so successfully carry women through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs. Here is proof:

Natick, Mass.—"I cannot express what I went through during the Change of Life before I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was in such a nervous condition I could not keep still. My limbs were cold. I had creepy sensations and could not sleep nights. I was finally told by two physicians that I had a tumor.

"I read one day of the wonderful cures made by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and decided to try it, and it made me a well woman. My neighbors and friends declare it has worked a miracle for me. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is worth its weight in gold for women during this period of life. If it will help others you may publish this letter."—Mrs. Nathan B. Groaton, 51 No. Main St., Natick, Mass.

ANOTHER SIMILAR CASE.

Cornwallville, N. Y.—"I have been taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for some time for Change of Life, nervousness, and a fibroid growth.

"Two doctors advised me to go to the hospital, but one day while I was away visiting, I met a woman who told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and I know it helped me wonderfully. I am very thankful that I was told to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. Wm. Boughton, Cornwallville, N. Y., Greene Co.

The makers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have thousands of such letters as those above—they tell the truth, else they could not have been obtained for love or money. This medicine is no stranger—it has stood the test for years.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

Golden Wedding.

The 50th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Jones was observed by a large gathering of friends and relatives at Odd Fellows' Hall in Denmark, Friday evening. Congratulations were received from many others, who were unable to attend.

The evening opened with an instrumental duet by Mrs. Fred Sanborn and Mrs. Irving Locall, followed by the reading of congratulatory letters, by Mrs. Julia R. Shorey; an original poem by Mrs. Catharine Jewett; vocal duet by Mrs. Alfred Cobb and Mrs. George Gray; solo by little Bessie L. Igalle; vocal duet by Mrs. Sanborn and Mrs. Igalle; reading, Myrtle Fessenden; solo, Mrs. Sanborn; recitation, Gladys Bean; and singing of "America" in chorus. Refreshments and a social followed.

The gifts included a gold watch, gold-cased spectacles, brooch, belt pin, embroidered and Rebecka pins, clock, whipped cream dish and gold coins. The presentation was made by Elwood Pender.

Mr. Jon A. was born in Wilmington, Mass., on April 25th, 1839. When he was six years of age his parents moved to Denmark, which has been his home town since. His trade is that of carpenter and general house-builder, but he has throughout his life engaged in farming to some extent, and in the past few years has devoted himself to that occupation exclusively. He has been an enthusiastic member of Odd Fellows over 40 years and has held various offices. He is a charter member of the Grand Lodge of 32 years, having in that time attended 30 sessions. He is also a member of the G. A. R.

Mrs. Jones, whose maiden name was Martha J. Lewis, is a native of Houlton, Me. The date of her birth is Aug. 30, 1856. She too came to Maine at an early age, and has been a resident of Denmark 25 years. She is a charter member of Silver Lodge No. 10, D. of R., and has been a promoter of this lodge since its institution, about 20 years ago. She has reared two sons, of whom one, William Lister, is a machinist in Roxbury, Mass., and the other, Elmer Dayton, is the owner of a wheat farm in Turlock, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones are in good health and are cordial and hearty and are highly respected and esteemed by relatives, lodge associates and friends.

The nearly a century old boundary dispute between the towns of Eiram and Denmark in Oxford county will be settled early in March, when the commission appointed by the supreme court to determine the matter is expected to file its report. At a recent hearing it was agreed that if the commission could find certain original marks defining the boundary, which has been lost for many years, they should be accepted as determining the matter. This has been done. Valuable tracts of timberland are included in the disputed territory which has been the subject of endless litigation.

Reviving The Drowned.

Medicinal and seafaring men are stirred over new theories advanced by an Elgin physician and professor of a Chicago school of medicine, holding that drowning may be prevented in almost all instances. Demonstrations have proved the practicability of the contention that resuscitation may be accomplished in such cases hours after death has apparently taken place.

Dr. H. K. Whitford, a practitioner of Elgin and an instructor in a Chicago medical school, is author of the system. His theory of resuscitation affects the lawyers because of his declaration that scores of calls at the penitentiary at Joliet contain prisoners, convicted on circumstantial evidence, who ought to be free.

Dr. Whitford declares that he can restore to life a person who has stopped breathing for six hours after being apparently drowned. Emma Berlinger, a resident of the west side of Elgin, is cited as one of the patients who he has restored to life. She fell off the Chicago street bridge in Elgin, was apparently drowned, and was carried by the current to the National street bridge before being taken from the water. Twenty minutes after the physician began work, she recovered consciousness, and two hours later she went to her home.

The physician declares that death from drowning is caused by asphyxia from spasmodic closing of the glottis and the complete exclusion of air from the lungs, and that the commonly accepted theory that the bronchial tubes are filled with water at first is radically wrong. Death he ascribes to be due to asphyxiation and the rapid cooling of the body.

In scores of cases where bodies have been discovered in lagoons and rivers with no water in the lungs or bronchial tubes, the police have declared that the victims have been murdered before being hurled into the water. In many such cases persons have been convicted on circumstantial evidence of murder. In these cases medical authorities declare, under the new revelations made by Dr. Whitford, that the bodies were not discovered in the lungs or bronchial tubes, does not prove that the victims were murdered.

Dr. Whitford's method of resuscitation is extremely simple. The supposed drowned person is placed in a bathtub which contains hot water and the water is then dipped up with a pitcher and poured from an elevation on the surface of the body. Care is taken that a continuous heavy stream is not allowed to flow too long on any spot, especially on the head or any part of the spinal column. Flowing hot water the doctor believes, is the restorative agent.

The method, tested by other physicians throughout the country, has been found to be extremely effective. Medical journals are authority for the statement that Dr. Whitford has restored persons who have not breathed for half an hour or more.

As soon as there is any sign of life, following the hot water treatment, artificial respiration is practiced, the patient then being wrapped in blankets wrung out of hot water.

Advice Concerning Stomach Troubles and How to Remedy Them.

Do not neglect indigestion which leads to all sorts of ills and complications. An eminent doctor once said that ninety-five per cent. of all the ills of the human body have their origin in a disordered stomach.

A physician who made a specialty of stomach troubles, particularly dyspepsia, after years of study perfected the formula for the famous Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are made.

Our experience with Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets leads us to believe them to be the greatest remedy known for the relief of acute indigestion and chronic dyspepsia. Their ingredients are soothing and healing to the inflamed membrane of the stomach. They are rich in pepsin, one of the greatest digestive aids known to medicine. The relief they afford is immediate. Their use with persistency and regularity for a short time brings about a cessation of the pains caused by stomach disorders.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets will insure healthy appetite, aid digestion and promote nutrition. Evidence of our sincere faith in Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, we ask you to try them at our risk. If they do not give you entire satisfaction, we will return you the money you paid us for them without question or formality. They come in three sizes, prices, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00. North Waterford Church Historical Sketch.

I think it was before 1890 that the people in and about North Waterford began to think about building a church. For some time meetings had been held in the old red school house, and later in the new one built in 1828 and burnt in 1900. In those days there was quite a population both of grown people and children and all seemed to be united and interested in having a church.

I think the people at the "Flat" did not like this idea very well and I suppose they had some good reasons for all who had teams used to go each Sunday, and I have heard aunt Eliza Farmer tell the story that she had walked many times four miles to church, going bare foot most of the way and carrying her shoes in her hand and with the girl who walked with her putting them on when near the "Flat".

When people first began to talk about a new church, Mr. William Greene offered to give the land which was situated over in a field behind his house which stood on the corner opposite my uncle John Rand's store. This house was painted red and the wall, now the common was in the kitchen. Mr. Greene was a very kind, generous man, but a very strict one, and his observance of Sunday and the laws of justice and morality were never broken.

There was a great dispute about the site of the new church most people thinking it ought to face the road, but Mr. Greene insisted it should face the back of his buildings. He could foresee what others could not. They did not know of his plan to build a handsome new house opposite the church, and and move his old one, thus forming an open square, or of the new road to Lovell, which he worked so hard to gain. Both this road and his new house were built in 1892. I well remember the universal displeasure at the decided stand Mr. Greene took in the situation of the church, but he had given the land and his word could not be disputed.

July 4th, 1890, the church was raised in the presence of several hundred people as I remember. My mother who died July 15th that year walked across the floor to see the skeleton of the new building and she said she should not live to see it finished.

George Hobson took the contract, and everyone gave as they could afford of their time and money in the construction.

The steeple was built in the vestibule and raised by long ropes to its present position.

This occasion was in the fall, also viewed by a large crowd. There was a proud and happy community when at last all was completed, a beautiful red carpet laid in the aisle and each one who could afford it carpeted their own pew and nearly all were able to do this.

To my childish eyes there was never anything so large and gorgeous as that magnificent chancel, with three lamps filled with kerosene, a new kind of oil which was almost as bright as daylight, and which was too expensive to burn every day in families.

When the pulpit way being built, I asked Mr. Greene what he thought of the workmen what if it was and he said it was a trap for naughty children who if they did not behave were snatched up by the minister who had a trap door under his foot to let them down where they must stay till morning was done. For some years I believed that story and often hunted for a seam in the carpet which should indicate a trap door.

The church was dedicated Dec. 24, 1890, my seventh birthday, and I well remember taking my father's hand and walking over to the new church. It was leader in the choir for some years, and he told me if I did not sit still he would be in the gallery where he could see me, and as I had before known the power of his eagle eyes and with the memory of that awful trap door, I think I was a well behaved child.

The ministers whom I remember being present were Rev. Mr. Douglass, Rev. Mr. Warren, Rev. Mr. Gould of Albany and Rev. Mr. Wilcox, but I think there were several others. One hymn sung was "Blest be the tie that binds."

My uncle John Rand induced some one in Portland to give the Communion service, and Wm. Greene gave those wonderful lamps.

A melodeon was brought in from John Green's on every Sunday, and until her illness his daughter Selinda used to play on Sundays.

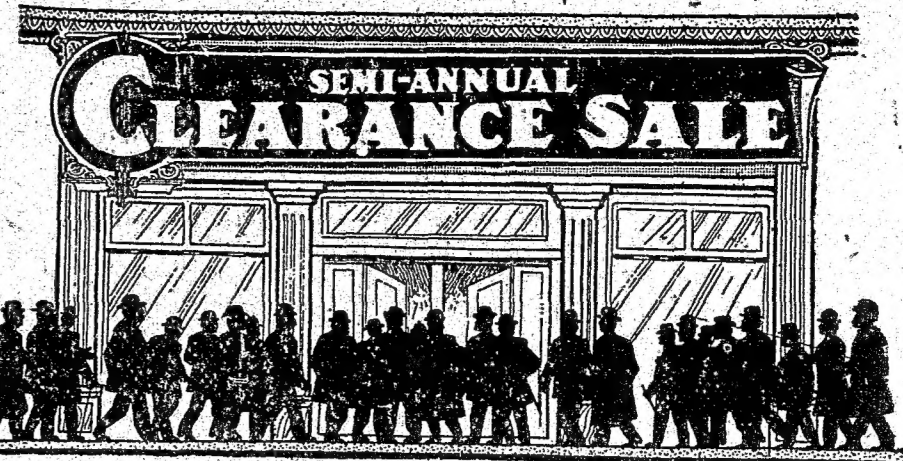

I remember that Farnham Jewett's daughter Lizzie used to play on occasions. Many Sundays there was choir singing without music and it was not until 1871 that an organ was bought.

My father made the blinds, receiving $70 for the work and on July 4, 1894, my sister and I helped him hang them, holding our fingers in the slats as he marked the places for the hinges.

Those were days when people loved to go to church and Sunday after Sunday, especially in summer, every pew was filled and for some years there were two services each Sunday with an hour for Sabbath school between. I remember Mr. and Mrs. Asa Hersey with little Frank between them and Ezra standing up behind or hanging his legs as the notion took him, coming five miles, and no storm was too severe to keep them at home.

In that broad aisle, so full of memories, sat Capt. Kilborn and his placid faced wife with Emma and Sarah. Mrs. William Greene and her family, for Mr. Greene died in 1863, Mrs. Thomas Greene and her family, John Greene's family, Stephen Hor's family, Peter Mosher and his wife, Isaac Hor's family, and who has forgotten aunt Dea. Watson and her family, Isaac Beckler and family, Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Hodgdon and the Chaplain Sisters, Mr. and Mrs. John Rand, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whitney, Mr. and Mrs. John Rice, Mr. and Mrs. Farnham Jewett, Mr. and Mrs. George Knight and family.

REBRON.

Barrows' Lodge Damaged.
Barrows' Lodge caught fire Tuesday morning in the gale and the inside of the building was badly damaged. The fire department of the school did great work in keeping the flames subdued. The building was occupied by nearly 30 boys, who have had to obtain rooms elsewhere. The fire caught from an overheated furnace.
Monday evening at 11 o'clock a fire broke out in the boiler room. The student fire brigade at once promptly got out the two hose carriages and had streams on the fire within a few moments of the alarm. The west wind was favorable to keep the fire from spreading over the building, for the fire was on the east end of the dormitory. The splendid equipment to fight fire with, the abundant water supply, with the unexcelled work of the men of the faculty, with the aid of the boys, quickly got the fire confined where it was finally subdued after an hour or more.
The western part of the building is so built in relation to the eastern part that during the repairs of the burned part the other part can be used as the home for at least 20 of the boys without interfering with their work while the repairs are going on. Fortunately the heating system is a truly injured and the steam has been started in the boiler, and all of the windows in the western part and some slight repairs it will be possible to restore the boys in the western half to their rooms early the coming week.
There was comparatively little loss of personal effects and the things first thought to be lost are rapidly coming to light. Parents need have no anxiety. The management of the school is fortunately equal to any demands.
